The Laudmark says, in commenting on our defeat:

To account for this result is somewhat difficult. confess to great surprise. It was not due to the tariff issue, for the returns show large gains for Cleveland in the great manufacturing centers; nor is it due to trading in New York, for he rained 12,000 in that city over his vote in 1884. lost 4,000 in Brooklyn, from some inexplicable cause, and the republican majorities inereased in the rural districts. These have the greatest interest in the cause of tariff posed to take it that the brought about such a result.
